Dear Parents

As many of you know, World Book Day will take place on Thursday 5th March this year.

We have been planning a range of activities that are different than in previous years. Please see back of letter. This is in light of comments that we have received in previous years from parents and grandparents, especially the high costs of costumes and the pressure that is felt in producing these costumes.

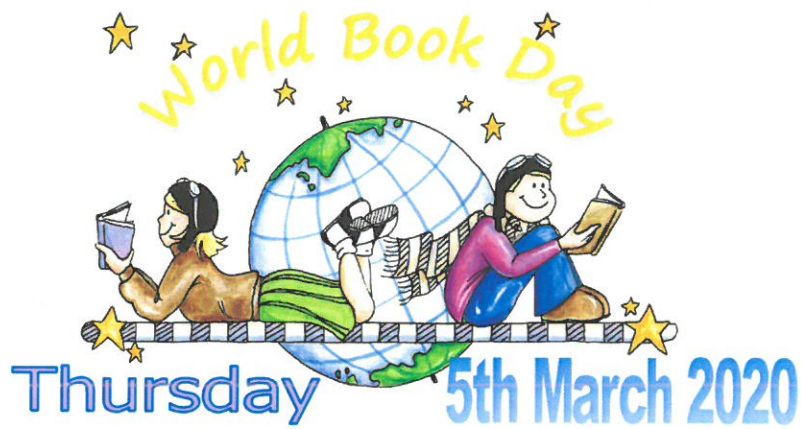

This year, we had decided as a school, not to dress up as a book character. However, it appears that some of you have been planning your costume over the half term break. So, as not to disappoint these children, and if your child would like to dress up on the day, then they can still do so. There is no obligation to do this and staff will not be dressing up this year. We will be holding a reading breakfast for you and your child, which will begin at 8.50am, and ask that your child brings in their favourite book to share with you.

Yours sincerely,

C.E. Talbot

Head Teacher

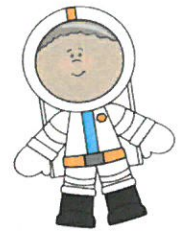

Reading Breakfast!

We are inviting all children to bring a relative to school from 8.50am to share a book.

A breakfast snack will be available for the children and tea/coffee for the adults.

Bring your favourite book to school!

We are asking all children to bring their favourite books into school. Children should be prepared to talk to their class about this book and explain why they have chosen to bring it to school.

£1 World Book Day Tokens

Each child will be given a book token on World Book Day. All you need to do is to take it to your local bookseller and swap it for one of the free World Book Day books.

Or, if you'd prefer, you can use your book token to get £1 off any full price book.

If you'd rather get an audiobook, that's fine too, just as long as the book or audiobook costs at least £2.99.

The World Book Day book tokens are valid until Sunday 29th March 2020
